

I was recently informed that LPFM advocates seem to have little regard for services such as K-LOVE and I wanted to make sure that my input on the subject was given. I listen to K-LOVE CONSTANTLY. I listen to it at work, home, car, and it's importance to my spiritual walk is enormous. I can't always make it to church, so being able to listen to Christian radio, without commercials, is a tremendous blessing. I would be very upset if someday I turned to the K-LOVE station and found that it had been replaced with different programming, and I believe that many of my fellow Christians would feel the same. K-LOVE is a great unifier of denominations. Having K-LOVE on the air provides something that many Christians, who don't necessarily believe all the same things, need to come together to minister to others in a positive way. K-LOVE is something that we share, and so it helps us to focus on our similarities rather than our differences. Please do not undervalue the importance of K-LOVE, in small communities, or as this nation as a whole.
